

Correspondence.

In a recent issue of the Chicago Mail is an article entitled "Women to the Front." It would be an excellent idea for all right-minded men and women to read this article, and if it does not bring a blush of shame and indignation to their faces then I am no judge of human nature. I would ask the author of this article what it was that brought about the late Rebellion. It was not the generous kindness of the humane slave owner; their blacks did not cry for freedom. But it was the miserable creatures whose backs were always stripped; whose flesh was torn by the blood-hounds' fangs. That first awakened the feeling of indignation that swept around the world, kindling a spark in every heart, and causing the people to arise en masse and demand freedom for that down-trodden race. And they got it; and it will not require many such brutal articles to arouse the large-hearted, brainy men of the world, and cause them to espouse the woman's suffrage cause. Then they will give to women what they never had a right to deny her—the ballot. In all other respects she is now, and always has been, man's equal.

And when that time comes the man who would write, publish or republish such a coarse article will hold about the same position in society as does the slave owner who sold his own offspring, and then had the slave mother tied and whipped because she mourned for her child.

It is but natural to suppose that the men who write and print such articles draw their inference from their own families. In that case I am truly sorry for their wives and mothers, and have no doubt that their appearance behind a doughnut counter would meet with about the same success as their puny efforts to make respectable men and dutiful sons of their unfilial children.

A GENTLE SURPRISE.—Mr. Peter Jackson has been entertaining an angel unawares. He, like Kilrain, has found that there are more things in heaven and earth than he dreamed of in his philosophy. The Baltimore boy has his Corbett and the dusky vanquisher of big Joe McAuliffe and Jim Smith his Lambert, also like Dempsey, his LaBlanche. Lambert, who enjoyed the unexpected happiness of getting the better of Mr. Jackson in a four round sparring contest in Troy, recently. The dark complexion prize fighter is reported to be the most disgusted African in America. It is the unexpected that sometimes happens, even in the world of pugilism. Dempsey, like Jackson is also disgusted, he having failed to get a return fight with LaBlanche, the latter not accepting any terms.

AN EDITOR'S CONUNDRUM.—The trials that beset the path of journalism are not confined to the secular newspaper. The religious press are in the same box. "One problem remains unsolved," is the conclusion of Editor Garrett, of The Baptist Herald of Truth, "and it is a problem in which none affect more people in a practical way—why do not subscribers to a paper pay up?" Possibly, to employ the crude vernacular of the small boy, because they don't have to.

BLACK WALLACE ON TOP.—In the Supreme Court, in the case of Ford & Co. against the Assessor of Nye county, Judge Wells decision in favor of McGregor has been reversed. In the case of I. O. C. Whitmore vs. the Assessor of Nye county, also for the collection of illegal taxes belonging to this county, the decision of Judge Fitzgerald in favor of Whitmore is sustained. This settles the home ranch proposition.

The $25,000 libel suit brought by the California State Bank against the publishers of the Sacramento Bee has been dismissed by consent of both parties.

Getting their Catalogues.

We value to the utmost our out-of-town post office acquaintances. Uncle Sam is our hard working ally and we have no disposition to make his tasks lighter. He grumbles a little during busy seasons when an avalanche of mail orders flood his office here, but that matters little so long as you get your goods on time. In these days of steam and electricity it is a luxury to be an out-of-town shopper. No jostling, no confusion—a catalogue, pen and ink, and you receive as much attention as your city friend. The catalogue is a great help—a silent salesman, perhaps the best. You may know, for instance, that you want ten yards of cashmere for a gown, but the catalogue reminds you of linings and other accessories at such a saving in prices that your postage is a cipher. Then it illustrates a new trimming which takes your fancy and your cashmere gown develops into a stylish affair quite impossible in village shopping. By a systematic turning of its pages other necessities confront you which might as well be ordered one time as another, saving time and money, too.

Our new Catalogue is fuller of illustrations than any previous one. We think seeing things as they are is a help—a two-inch illustration tells you more about a lace pattern or a suit of clothes than we could explain in a column.

If the new Catalogue shows an improvement on older methods, the out-of-town people are responsible for it. An unusual order generally puts an idea into our heads—which we think out, and put in force in the next issue. This is why our Catalogue is such a useful book and constantly growing larger.

Send your address and a catalogue will be sent you free.
